MGM's Third Quarterly Business Matching Session Marks First for Creative Industry Generates Synergy with Industry Players to Enhance Sustainable Growth for Local SMEs

[June 28, 2016, Macau] MGM hosted its third quarterly SME Business Matching Session on June 24, welcoming over 120 local SME vendors from the creative and food & beverage industries. The Session was also joined by representatives from fellow integrated resort operators as a way of sharing insights to collectively support SMEs in Macau.

MGM partnered with the Association of Advertising Agents of Macau (AAAM), which marks the first collaboration of the Association with an integrated resort operator on SME program. With the linkage provided by the Association between MGM and its members, MGM's department heads from the relevant teams specializing in exhibition, events planning, advertising and corporate premium productions, were able to spend time with local professional vendors, understanding their products, services and capabilities for cooperation opportunities on upcoming projects. In addition, four leading Macau banks participated in the Business Matching Session to provide one-stop financial services for SME vendors on-site. The Session also welcomed representatives from Galaxy Entertainment Group (GEG) and Sociedade de Jogos de Macau (SJM) to share experiences of our respective SME business engagement that will benefit the sustainable growth of local SME vendors.

Mr. Lo Tak Chong, Managing Director of AAAM, said, "Our association members were very impressed because they were met by MGM's department heads, which has never happened before in any other matching sessions that they have attended previously. This gives the industry professionals, both on the corporation and SME sides, a helpful and practical platform to connect while opening doors to future opportunities."

As a follow-up to its first SME Food Safety Seminar held earlier this month, MGM's F&B teams also met with local vendors for business matching and took the opportunity to reiterate its practices of upholding international food safety standards and procurement procedures which will contribute to positioning Macau as a city of gastronomy.

Mr. Chui Yuk Lum, Vice-President of Board of Directors of Macao Chamber of Commerce (MCC), said at the event, "What sets MGM's SME Business Matching Sessions apart is that they have their high-level representatives to meet directly with the vendors which creates a constructive communication for both sides. The current condition also creates uncertainty especially for the budding SMEs of creative industries, and this Session gives them the opportunity to build confidence for themselves, build trust for the clients, and a channel to present their products, which are all important first steps to any business before moving forward onto actual contracts and transactions."

Mr. Grant Bowie, Chief Executive Officer and Executive Director of MGM China Holdings Limited said, "We are delighted to be hosting our third SME Business Matching Session with an enthusiastic response and we would like to thank all our partners the success. Moving forward, we are eager to share our experience with the key players of the industry, as it takes a collaborative effort to foster a healthy environment for the local SMEs to grow in a direction that will increase Macau's competitiveness. With our dedication, we hope to help bring the local brands beyond Macau and in turn, bring the world to Macau."
